I am so heart broken over the passing of my beloved friend, Dee. She was such a great part of my life and my family loved her so. She was funny, witty, and so full of Christ and brought me such love that will always be with me. She was with me through my husband's fight with bone marrow cancer and he left us 8 months ago. She will be truly missed but she has now gone on to be with Joe and others in her life who were waiting for her. I was so blessed to have had her for my friend and I loved her so. My darling Pam, you stood with her throughout her valiant fight and please take care of yourself because you are so needed.

*God Bless and Hold you close

My darling friend, Dee, I have missed you and Pam at Saturday services. It was so lonely not to see you in the front pew. I was looking forward to sharing our St. MM gymnasium adventure with you and Pam. I am so sorry I can't see you any more. I prayed and prayed so hard you would be spared. I guess I needed an angel in heaven more than I needed to see your cocky smile. No, I am not behaving myself. I'm doing my best to be a grandmother and producing all the eye rolling I can with the teenagers. Remember me to the Father. I miss you so much. Now that you are at the seat of all power, take care of Pam. I love you both and I miss you. I love you.

I met Dee when I was nine and she was ten on the first day I moved to our new neighborhood. We were inseparable for years but moves and life took us on different paths. When she found me about 15 years ago and sent a surprise birthday card I was so moved. It took several more years to actually see each other again and it was as though no time had passed. We sat in a restaurant for five hours talking and talking. Just like when we were young, phone chats went on for hours. Since then, a trip home wasn't complete without seeing her and having dinner at The Cheesecake Factory. Pam, you have been the most devoted of friends. She often said she didn't know what she would do without your love and support. I am so sorry she is gone but so grateful that she had such a gift of your friendship. May God's blessings be with you now. Watch for Dee....she will show herself in the most unexpected ways. With love, Deb

I will sorely miss the phone calls from my sweet cousin Dee and also the hugs when we were able to meet. She always cheered me up even when she was "down" herself. I loved her dearly and feel the same about her wonderful friend Pam! She is now without any pain or discomfort and in a beautiful place with many of her loved ones. Pam take care of yourself and keep in touch. Love, Phyl
