“ I had the privilege of knowing Ed for a short time. My dad was in Mt. Carmel and sat at Ed's table for his meals. I was shocked when Ed told me he was 88! I didn't think he looked that old. He told me about his life as a pilot in the Air Force and beyond. I enjoyed talking with him. Ed enjoyed the Friday happy hours at Mt. Carmel. The first one I went to I asked Ed what he was drinking - it looked like water - he said, "Vodka and tonic". My dad was taken from Mt. Carmel to the hospital on 4/14. I didn't get to tell Ed what happened - so I went to Mt. Carmel on Easter with an Easter Basket of candy for Ed to find out that he had passed away. I was quite shocked. My dad is now at home and he was saddened by the news as well. Our prayers are with Ed's soul and your family. God bless.##imported-begin##Susan Cooke##imported-end##

“ My thoughts and prayers are with you all. I was privileged to know Ed, although for only a short time. He was such a gentleman and fought a long, hard battle to the end. He is at peace now and is with your Mom.
May you find comfort in the support and love from your friends and family.

“ Ed will be remembered as a gentleman who had an impressive grasp of St. Louis aviation history and an impressive flying record. His donation of a sizable collection of aviation history books to Parks College/SLU serves as a legacy of his generosity. Condolences to Ed's family members.##imported-begin##Lori Calcaterra##imported-end##
