“ I will never forget all the good times we had when Jim and Linda and the kids would come to Okawville for the weekends. At the time we had chickens and guineas. Those crazy guineas would wake Jim up every morning because they would get under the window where they were sleeping and make guinea noises. Whenever they would pull in the driveway the guineas would sound off and run up to his vehicle like they were going to attack it. Jim would laugh and say "they don't scare me". You will be missed by many. Rest in peace Jim

“ I had a moment were it was jus me to raise my son, n take care of a house..I would always call my dad n say can u fix my toilet or my sink is leaking can u look at it, so he came over b said I'm not fixing it were gonna fix it ,, u have to learn to do this on ur own now girl...u can't depend on noone,, but then he would always immediately say but u can always depend on me...my daddy taught me to be tough n independent, , n he taught his grandson how to fix bikes, be sincere,,, respect others n most importantly...how to be a great man...everyone always said I am my dad's mini me...I LOVE YOU DAD...
