“ Dear Gramps,

From the Catholic Church to Bob's Bakery, your strong yet gentle force was and still is felt.

Our appreciation for the rosary, no matter what speed uttered, comes from you. Our true belief that the bread transforming into Christ's body stemmed from your influence in your children's faith lives, thus gracing us with our gift of faith.

The love for breads, pastries, cakes comes from you.

We'll miss waking in the front room to find you asleep on a recliner. We'll miss your peach-fuzz head and your warm, loving smile. We'll miss each Christmas, waiting for our names to be said and for you to hand us our coins. We'll miss the room full of trains with the miniature village and your invitation for us to help you with the precious trains. We'll miss all of the stories you have to tell us; you always had a 'story' to tell us.

We know that when we see a rosary, a Christmas stolen, a train, a pair of Velcro shoes, a rolled up stocking cap, we'll think of you.

Forever your grandchildren,

We love you,

Rachel and Clayton

Pezold

“ To my other Dad:

I will always remember...

- watching you fall asleep at the dinner table and taking the tablecloth with you as your arms dropped off.*
- eating every bite of something with a pad of butter.*
- adding "sweet n low" to your vegetables.*
- praying before AND after every meal.*
- drinking warm soda straight from the can.*
- wearing your brown mocassins around the house.*
- baking wonderful rolls and bread.*
- baking and decorating Christmas stollens.*
- watching every episode of Star Trek.*
- wearing your cute little knit cap.*
- accepting me into your family as one of your own.*
- welcoming Floyd into your home.*

*I miss you and love you. My life has been enriched because of you.
God bless you.*

Love Always,
